Taking Home Inventory

This is a guide to document your household items and other personal property in case disaster strikes. Keep receipts, photos and video-tapes in a secure place away from your home. Remember to update this document with any new purchases.

If a disaster destroyed your home today, would you be able to list everything that was lost?

It is easier to inventory your home now instead of attempting to remember a lifetime of purchases and belongings after a loss. Use this form as a guide to get started. Videotape and photos of each room is also a very good idea. Keep these documents, along with other important papers in a safe deposit box or a location away from your home.
